STUDY AND INTERN IN NEW YORK CITY

ARE YOU READY FOR A SEMESTER IN THE BIG APPLE?!

Once again, Rhodes will offer a fall semester in New York City where up to eight Rhodes students will complete academic internships and take two classes, all while earning a full semester of Rhodes credit.

Program cost: students will pay regular tuition and room (no board) to Rhodes; academic scholarships and all institutional, federal, and state aid will apply to the program

Course credit includes:

- Academic Internship – 8 credits (F11)
- Peoples of New York – 4 credits in History (F3 Pending approval for Foundation fulfillment)
- The NY Theatre Experience – 4 credits (F5 Pending approval for Foundation fulfillment)

Attend one of the information sessions offered by Career Services and the Buckman Center for International Education to learn more about this exciting program:

September 23 at 4:00 PM – Spence Wilson Room

October 13 at 5:00 PM – Burrow Hall, Room 105

November 4 at 4:00 PM – Burrow Hall, Room 105

Come to an information session in the afternoon on Feb. 4 to meet Dr. Murray, our Global Ghana program director. She is from Centre College's Educational Studies department and will lead this exciting new program for Rhodes, Centre, and Sewanee students in the Fall 2022 in Accra, Ghana. Courses are pending approval, but we anticipate offering:

- Ghana and West Africa's Pasts in the Black Atlantic
- Perspectives on Culture and Communication in the Ghanaian Context
- Globalization and the Challenges of Development in Ghana
- Ghanaian Popular Music (featuring Highlife)
- And an optional academic Internship and weekly seminar

Save the date! More information about the information session to follow.
