What is an Affiliated Partner?

Since Rhodes does not currently offer any of our own faculty-led semester programs, we send students on semester programs with a number of trusted partners (AIFS, USAC, etc.). Our partner programs are either exchange programs or what we call affiliated programs. As long as you go abroad with an affiliated partner, you are still fully considered a Rhodes student while abroad – and any and all of your Rhodes financial aid will go with you. If the program includes tuition, room, and board, you pay Rhodes tuition, room, and board and all your aid applies. If the study abroad program only includes tuition, you pay Rhodes tuition. Our affiliated partners also take students on summer programs either to places where we do not have Maymasters, or if a student wants a longer summer abroad experience. Just know that institutional aid is not portable for summer programs, though some federal and/or state aid may be. Talk this over with the Financial Aid office to see if you are eligible to use any non-institutional aid abroad for the summer.

Standing in solidarity with the Asian community

A troubling issue has been ongoing during the pandemic and it doesn't show signs of stopping: In multiple places in the US, there have been numerous instances of violence and aggression against people perceived to be Asian American or as from an Asian country.

This could be happening for general reasons, such as distrust/hatred for immigration, the rise in white nationalism, and/or xenophobia. It is also happening specifically from a false belief that people perceived to be from Asia are responsible for the COVID-19 pandemic.

The staff of the Buckman Center are here to support and listen to students who are Asian Americans and/or international students from Asian countries. We urge all students at Rhodes to keep learning and to read on below to find ways to become active in the struggle against racism, white nationalism, hatred, and fear in all its forms.

BE ACTIVE IN YOUR SUPPORT:

- Learn on your own about the history of anti-Asian sentiments and discrimination in America: Don't double the burden on those who are being discriminated against by asking them to educate you about it or tell you what you can do to be supportive. You can be a supportive friend by reading accounts of discrimination, learning about systemic racism, talking about it with those who are not being discriminated against, and committing to supporting policies and community movements to combat it. Link arms with students from Asia and Asian Americans in their fight against racism.
- Donate to Georgia's Asian American Community: A fund created by Asian Americans Advancing Justice - Atlanta to directly benefit the shooting victims and their families.
- Read The Making of Asian America: A History
- Read Asian Americans Advancing Justice's Tell Your Story
- Take a bystander intervention course: Hollaback!, an anti-harassment organization is providing free bystander intervention training to help you step in if you witness anti-Asian harassment.
- Listen to "Self Evident: Asian America's Stories" podcast
- Support Asian American-owned businesses:

Nguyen Coffee Supply is a woman-owned business that sells specialty coffee.

Live Tinted is a beauty brand offering products catered to all skin tones.

Wing On Wo & Co. is the oldest shop in New York's Chinatown.

Capsule is a wallet brand with a minimalistic product.

Studying Abroad from a Rhodes Global Diplomat

Name: Madeleine O'Toole

Class Year: 2022

Major: Business and Urban Studies

Study Abroad Program: Thailand Maymester

About their experience:

Hi! My name is Madeleine O'Toole and I am a Junior and a Business and Urban Studies double major! I studied Buddhism last summer on the Thailand Maymester and it was such a life changing experience. Chiang Mai was such an amazing city, and our group had so many opportunities to explore the Thai food and culture. The culture of Thailand truly revolves around Buddhism, so it was amazing to not only learn about the religion in the classroom, but also experience firsthand the ways in which it is engrained in Thai society. One of the most memorable experiences I had was spending three days at Buddhist female monastery. Studying abroad, even for just a month, was an absolutely incredible, growth-filled experience.
