What is an Affiliated Partner?

We send students on semester programs with a number of trusted partners (AIFS, USAC, etc.). Our partner programs are either exchange programs or what we call affiliated programs. As long as you go abroad with an affiliated partner, you are still fully considered a Rhodes student while abroad – and any and all of your Rhodes financial aid will go with you. If the program includes tuition, room, and board, you pay Rhodes tuition, room, and board and all your aid applies. If the study abroad program only includes tuition, you pay Rhodes tuition. Our affiliated partners also take students on summer programs either to places where we do not have Maymasters, or if a student wants a longer summer abroad experience. Just know that institutional aid is not portable for summer programs, though some federal and/or state aid may be. Talk this over with the Financial Aid office.

Field Research in Environmental Archaeology
F7 Science Credit & F-11 Credit OR

ARCE 450:
Archaeology Field School
F-11 Credit

The class & lab are held at the Ames Plantation, 50 miles from Rhodes College. All students live in dorms at the field school for 3 weeks.

No previous experience is needed. This is a field research class & excavation that requires students to live & work together while contributing to the success of a research project.

Enrollment is limited. Students must apply for acceptance via the on-line application at rhodes.edu/afs.

For further information, contact the program administrator, Prof.
Kimberly Kasper at kasperk@rhodes.edu, or visit rhodes.edu/archaeologyfieldschool

This course & lab focus on a scientific understanding of the biological & geological methods & theories relevant to human/environmental interaction in prehistoric & historic sites of human occupation. Research areas include:

- 1) environmental change & human activity
- 2) plant and animal domestication & exploitation
- 3) methods for dating artifacts

Studying Abroad from a Rhodes Global Diplomat

Name: Pierce Rose

Class Year: 2022

Major: History

Study Abroad Program:

Contemporary Option of the European Studies Program

About their experience:

My name is Pierce Rose, and I am a junior history major at Rhodes. During the fall semester of 2019, I participated in the Contemporary Option of the European Studies Program. I was able to spend significant time in the United Kingdom, France, and Germany studying modern European history, art, and politics. While in Europe, I was also able to visit Ireland, the Czech Republic, and the Netherlands. Studying abroad has been one of the best experiences of my life because of the friends I made and the things I learned from living in foreign countries.

I am excited to join the Buckman Center as the RSA for Study Abroad because the last year has shown just how vital travel and movement is to the college experience. Helping Rhodes students learn more about the study abroad opportunities available to them as we move towards the end of the pandemic is going to be a great experience. I am also excited to begin working with students who have already been abroad to tell their stories and share their experiences.
