Study Abroad Group Advising Sessions

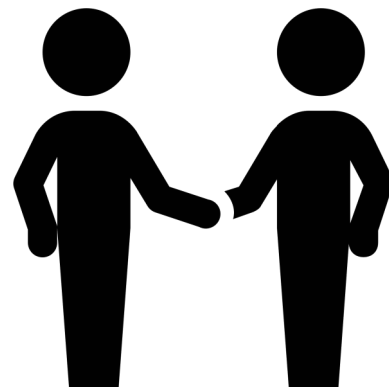

[Every Wednesday @ 13:00 CST]

International Programs Office, Room 105, Lower Level of Burrow Hall

What is an Affiliated Partner?

We send students on semester programs with a number of trusted partners (AIFS, USAC, etc.). Our partner programs are either exchange programs or what we call affiliated programs. As long as you go abroad with an affiliated partner, you are still fully considered a Rhodes student while abroad – and any and all of your Rhodes financial aid will go with you. If the program includes tuition, room, and board, you pay Rhodes tuition, room, and board and all your aid applies. If the study abroad program only includes tuition, you pay Rhodes tuition. Our affiliated partners also take students on summer programs either to places where we do not have Maymasters, or if a student wants a longer summer abroad experience. Just know that institutional aid is not portable for summer programs, though some federal and/or state aid may be. Talk this over with the Financial Aid office.

ARCE 120: Field Research in Environmental Archaeology
F7 Science Credit & F-11 Credit OR

ARCE 450:
Archaeology Field School
F-11 Credit

The class & lab are held at the Ames
Plantation, 50 miles from Rhodes College. All students live in dorms at the field school for 3 weeks.

This course & lab focus on a scientific understanding of the biological & geological methods & theories relevant to human/environmental interaction in prehistoric & historic sites of human occupation. Research areas include:

- 1) environmental change &
human activity
- 2) plant and animal domestication & exploitation
- 3) methods for dating artifacts

No previous experience is needed. This is a field research class & excavation that requires students to live & work together while contributing to the success of a research project.

Enrollment is limited. Students must apply for acceptance via the on-line application at rhodes.edu/afs.

Cinco de Mayo

Happy Cinco de Mayo from the Buckman Center for International Education!

Fun Facts about Cinco de Mayo

- Cinco de Mayo celebrates the Mexican army's victory over France at the end of Battle of Puebla on May 5, 1862
- Cinco de Mayo was declared as a US national holiday in 2005 celebrating Mexican culture
- Popular Cinco de Mayo dishes are Mole Poblano and Chiles en Nogada
- Traditional Mexican dress is often worn at parades.

Cinco de Mayo Celebrations

Puebla, Mexico - Puebla celebrates with a battle reenactment, fireworks, and a parade with more than 20,000 participants and elaborate floats.

Los Angeles, California - One of Los Angeles' celebrations is Fiesta Broadway, a huge street fair including games, music, vendors.

Mexico City, Mexico - Mexico City hosts a parade with music, reenactments, and traditional Mexican clothing.

How to Celebrate Cinco de Mayo Respectfully This Year

Celebrity chef Claudia Sandoval gives tips on how to celebrate Cinco de Mayo while appreciating Mexican culture, rather than appropriating it:

- 1) Share the Real Story: Learn about the history of the holiday
- 2) Support Local Mexican Businesses
- 3) Support Mexican Art and Museums
- 4) Eat the Food!

Studying Abroad from a Rhodes Global Diplomat

Name: Sam Shevitz

Class Year: 2022

Major: Business

Study Abroad Program: St. Louis University's Madrid Campus

About their experience:

My name is Sam Shevitz, I am a senior and International Business Major/Spanish Minor and studied at St. Louis University's Madrid Campus. In my time in Madrid, I took International Financial Management, International Marketing, Business and Professional Spanish as well as an upper level general Spanish fluency class. Taking the international business classes from the European perspective was precisely the reason that I went all this way to take classes. It goes without saying that the professors see the world from a different perspective, but on top of learning their global and cultural views, I had the chance to participate in an International sustainability course in partnership with Fordham University in London through my International Marketing Class in Madrid. This took me to London for a weekend and there I was able to dabble in the international professional culture of yet another country. Having had such a positive and impactful experience, I knew that it was imperative that I become a resource for future students to get abroad. As a result, I am now an RGD and work in the Bursar/Financial Aid office with the finances behind getting every student possible to go study abroad. Roll Lynx.
